Spirit Keeps Big Blue Gridders On The Ball

A loss could not drench the spirit of Hamilton's football team. Coach John Pont did not express any doubt about the spirit of his players who held a 4-6 record. Victory was and would always be a goal for the Big Blue, guaranteeing Hamilton a spot one day soon in the state playoffs.

While nothing seemed to go right for the Big Blue, the team suffered an uneasy season this past year. Giving it all they had, the team could not put things together. They began the season with four booming victories, only to suffer six hard fought losses. One reason for this upsetting season may have been due to the small breakdowns in both offense and defense. Though the defense did punish their opponents, and the offense gave every team a hard time, the connection to win somehow failed to come. The best game played was against Middletown, arch rival, where the team played up to their best potential.

One distinction of the Big Blue that placed them above all other teams was the team spirit. One game day the team stayed together all day and watched films and highlights for teams motivation. Before the game began those famous words could be heard, "Here we go! Here we go!"

Ryan Hannah, at wide receiver was the team's offensive threat and made 1st team GMC while Donnel Holland, James Terry, Derrick Moon, and Shaun Cardwell made 2nd team GMC. The most efficient offensive players were Doug McKinnon and Ryan Hannah, and the most efficient defensive players were Derrick Moon and Shawn Cardwell according to Coach Pont. Big Blue will certainly miss these outstanding senior players, but the remaining football players and coaches will look foward with anticipation to a new season of challenges next year.

A. Getting ready for the count is the Big Blue offensive combination of quarterback BOB BARNETT and center KEVIN HENDERSON. B. Pounding players and cracking helmets, the Big Blue offense punishes the Lakota runner. Teammates DERRICK SUTTON , JAMES TERRY, and SHAWN CARDWELL add the sparks. C. Maybe BOB BURDINE isn't Bo Jackson, but his good hands and quick feet give him the wide open pass for long yardage. D. On time and in sequence is the offensive threat of fullback GREG TERRY and quarterback BOB BARNETT.

John Pont Hamilton's New Coach

Hamilton High received a new addition to the athletic department this past year, and this man made a difference. Coach John Pont, team disciplinarian, was received as head coach of the varsity football team and was willing to change the attitudes of the players and build a sound football program. The simple reasons Pont chose Hamilton High for his return to coaching were he had missed coaching and Hamilton was the first school to ask. Pont felt that his reputation would have no influence on the players as far as his background as a college coach was concerned but he gained respect from the players when their first meeting was held.

Looking back on his days as a high school player, the only difference in football that Coach Pont noted was the change in lifestyle, not in the game itself. Pont's high school coach was totally different from himself in that he did not have any personal relationships with his players. Pont described his coach as extremely physical and "an authoritative figure."

Mean and tough is enough to describe the dominating efforts of the varsity team captains, DONNEL HOLLAND, DOUG MCKINNON, SHAWN CARDWELL, JAMES TERRY, and RUSS WHITEHILL.

Though the season turned out to be a rebuilding one, the players had a chance to play under one of many great coaches. Pont rated himself as an "eight out of ten" for his performance in this first year and felt that he had not acheived his goals as head coach. He felt he had to set goals beyond winning and losing, and given the chance to relive this past football season, he would stress more discipline.

Black Knights Lead Blue Into Days Of Camelot

An ineffective season did not slow down the activeness of the Big Blue defense. Though times were tough, the defense seemed to hold on to the fighting spirit. They became known as the Black Knights. They punished the halfbacks, they crushed the quarterbacks, they destroyed the offensive lines, and they were the essence of Hamilton High football.

If the offense did not score, the defense tried to take control of the game. The eleven physically harmful players had a sense of violence, destruction, and plain all-around abuse so essential to football. Off the field, the players had the discipline to be average people, but as they set foot on the field on game day, they set goals to injure the opposition's offense with an interminable desire to crush.

The game days were long for the Big Blue, and even the toughest guys sometimes weakened. When the breakdowns occured in the defense, the offense often came to the rescue. Though the victories did not fall in place, the offensive team still continued to put forth a valiant effort. They became known as the White Knights. They searched for any weaknesses in the opponent's defense, they thrust forth all kinds of surprise attacks, they shattered the opponent's pass defense, and they gave Big Blue excitement. When the defense could not come through, the Big Blue White Knights gave a great effort. Unfortunately, just as Camelot attempted to reach its peak of perfection, so Big Blue strove for perfection but fell short in the end. The players fought to the end for their Camelot of a winning season, and in their efforts proved that much can be accomplished when striving to acheive great goals.

A. Waiting for the snap, the Big Blue Black Knights impatiently stand ready for the attack. B. Kicking what semed to be the answer to all touchdowns, the reserve connection of TIM ROBINSON holds while JEFF LOGSDON kicks another fine punt. C. Action speaks louder than words as does quarterback BOB BARNETT as he fires another bullet pass to his receiver. D. Crushing another of his prey, REGGIE ROBERTS smashes a Lakota runner with help from teammates JAMES TERRY and JERRY GLOWKA. E. Fine hands and a good sense for the ball earned RYAN HANNAH first team GMC and the Most Efficient Offensive Player award for Big Blue.

Varsity Soccer Takes GMC With Great Season

In a season in which victory became a reality, the boys' varsity soccer team brought home the GMC title to Hamilton. Demonstrating their athletic ability along with the strategic work of Coaches Schechtman and Oliver, the team became soccer champs. Coach Schechtman was recognized a Coach of the Year for his efforts.

The Big Blue team was honored with the following GMC awards: First Team GMC- Brad Myers, Scott Hartford, Steve Satterthwaite, and Scott Palmer; Second Team GMC — John Selhorst, Joel Schechtman, Joey Thompson, and Matt Blauvelt; Honorable Mention — Rick Demmel. Brad Myers and Matt Blauvelt were honored by making the Second Team All Southwestern Ohio.

At the awards banquet, the following awards were given: Brad Myers was Most Valuable Player and Best Offensive Play-

Cornell And Fugate Lead Netters In Winning Season

Hamilton High's girls' tennis team brought home fourth place in the GMC. An outstanding Catherine Cornell received honorable mention in the GMC awards for first singles. Lori Fugate finished fourth on the season in second team singles, while Kim Hedrick finished fourth in third team singles. In the first team doubles, Nancy Weisberg and Missy Harvey received second place while Marybeth Distaola with partner Sherry Shelley fought for a hard third place in the second team doubles. The team brought home three wins and two losses in the GMC and overall ended the season with ten wins and four losses. Although the

Spikers Tie For GMC Champ Title

The 1985 volleyball team had the best season they've ever had. Both reserve and varsity teams did very well, the varsity with a record of 19-6 and the reserves with a record of 12-6.

The varsity squad started off its season with two losses to New Miami and Edgewood, but they got their wits about them and really improved from there on out. They broke the school record for the best percentage of spikes in the school's history. The team was also seeded fourth in the district tournament, but unfortunately lost to Princeton and split the GMC championship title with the Vikings.

The reserve team, with many new sophomores, started their season with three wins, but faced Colerain and lost their

Golfers Compete In State Tourney, Take GMC 3rd

Placing twelfth in the state and third in the GMC, the golf team aced this season. Having lost only five games, the team came out on top with ten devastating victories. In the Fall Classic, where 35 teams competed for first place, the golf team placed second overall. They had five outstanding players who participated in state competition: Mark Leugers, Greg Weik, Chris Moore, Mike Smith, and Randy Flick. The golf team also took second at the district tournament out of sixteen schools, and placed third in the regionals. The team was ranked twelfth in the state for their best-ever season. Coach Mate, impatiently waiting for the next season to come, feels it was his best year ever as golf coach with such fine players.

Bleak Start Turns Into Great Success

The basketball season appeared to be very upsetting; everything seemed to go wrong, but that did not demoralize the spirits of the Big Blue basketball team. The season started with an upsetting loss to Dayton Patterson. Things looked even worse when All-State guard Norm Grevey was put out for the season with a knee injury. But then, the team began to come together. They began to take game after game, fighting each to the very end. Coach John Smith kept the team on their toes and led them to a 14 game winning streak. Senior forward Tim Anderson and senior center Ray Lawson paced the team to become GMC Co-Champs with the Fairfield Indians. The team failed to go all the way in the state tournament, winning their first game only to lose the second to the Princeton Vikings. The season was one of the best in a long time for the Big Blue cagers.

The award for most assists went to senior point guard and GMC honorable mention Randy Printup. The award for best defense went to senior forward and All Golden Triangle honorable mention Derrick Moon. The award for most rebounds

Reserves And Sophs Go For Wins

The 1985-86 sophomore basketball team paced themselves to another winning season. The season took an up and down start, but the team began to put things together. They went on to win eight straight games and lose only three in a row. The team was led by the all-around play of Mike Smith, the outside shooting of Sid Imhoff, the rebounding of Dustin Hendrix, the block shots of Stacey Roberts and the return of the swift moving David Printup. The team went on to place second in the GMC with an 11-7 overall record.

The reserve team started the season with an upsetting loss to Dayton Patterson, but went on to win the next five straight. After a difficult loss to the Fairfield Indians, the Big Blue reserve picked things up and went on to defeat the Indians the

Christy Smith Leads

Young But Powerful

Coach Sword led the girls' varsity basketball team to an overall record of 12-8. The team was young and restless, with only three returning seniors. Christy Smith was a key player to the season. Christy broke the HHS scoring record, was tops in rebounds and assists, and also had the most steals. She was undoubtedly the Most Valuable Player for the HHS girls' season. She was awarded a First Team pick in the GMC honors for her outstanding play. Shauna Bowman and Michelle Davis received honorable mentions in the GMC picks to highlight their tremendous play during the season. Team awards were given to Shauna Bow-

Year Of The Midgets?

What seemed to be the "year of the midgets" turned out to be quite an impressive season for the 85-86 gymnastics team. Though they seemed to suffer injury after injury losing important teammates like Jamie Scenters and Cindy Deppish, they were able to put things together. They managed to surpass teams like C.A.P.E., but unfortunately lost to larger, more experienced teams. Three great freshman provided the team with a great base, Marcie Snyder, Jenny Mays and Briana Gregory. One of the team's weaknesses was on bar routines, but they balanced this with their great agility on the floor routines. Coach Debbie Menche expected the best from the girls and got it most of the time. Maybe the scoreboard didn't always show a win, but ther was always a moral victory to be placed.

Big Blue Netters Do It Again!

It was a year of mishaps and unforgetable faults that led to an unsuccessful season for the Big Blue tennis team. The season started off slowly with two consecutive losses to power teams like Middletown and Talawanda. The team handled the losses and sparked themselves on to victory over Lima, but it was all down hill from there. Nothing seemed to go right for the Blue netters, while luck seemed to strike each opponent they faced. As the season progressed, the team became quite discouraged. Fortunately, before the season ended the team gathered themselves together and defeated Fairfield for a third place in the GMC with Princeton. Top netters for varsity were Scott Hartford, Mitch Goodman and Brett Parrish who qualified for the regional tournament.

The reserve tennis team had problems with their season, also, being only fortunate enough to win one match the whole season. The team hit a losing stretch at the beginning and not winning until their seventh time out against Garfield. The players got plenty of valuable experience in competition, and the coaches look forward to better play next year.

Big Blue Batters Co-Champs

Whether it was scoring or stealing bases, the Big Blue batters excelled in every aspect of the game. The team's great talent gave them a terrific season, allowing them to live up to the high standards of baseball in Hamilton. The offensive batting triggered the victories, but the defense kept them going throughout the season allowing very few losses. The Big Blue batters battled against the Fairfield Indians, the GMC's top team, and managed to put them away in the first game. Unfortunately for the Blue, the Indians retaliated victoriously to force the Blue to share the GMC first place slot with them. Some of the standouts for the team were pitchers Tracey Sparks, Mark Lewis, Buddy Baker and Reggie Hibbard. The defensive attack was led by Randy Fowler and Thorsten Williams.

The reserve baseball team finished the

Cheerleaders Keep Us In The Spirit

This summer all three cheerleading squads placed in the competition at Ball State University in Indiana and were invited to compete in the national competition in Nashville, Tennesee. They were unable to attend the nationals.

The varsity squad consisted of eight members who captured the Grand Champion Award in the varsity division at camp. These girls upheld the true spirit of the Big Blue all year long.

The junior varsity squad which also consisted of eight members attended summer camp and won Grand Champions of the JV division. These girls did an outstanding job cheering and assisting the varsity squad all year.

The sophomore squad made up of eight members won first runner-up in the Grand Champion JV division at camp. These eight ladies did a terrific job in their first year as Big Blue spirit leaders.

New Group At HHS Friends Helping Friends Starts Peer Counseling

Something good is happening at HHS. The student body is concerned about the misuse of drugs and alcohol, and they want to do something about it. So they have formed a new group called Friends Helping Friends. It is an organization designed to recognize and help students with drug and alcohol problems. FHF has participated in a number of activities to show their concern. Some of these projects include peer counseling at junior high schools, projects for senior prom and running in marathons. Their main goal is to help the students with their problems and let them know they have friends to turn to.

The 1985-86 Future Business Leaders of America has had a successful year in competing in the various types of FBLA competitions. Two of the FBLA students won trophies for placing in the district competition at Lebanon High School and became eligible for state competition. Stephanie Shulz was first in spelling and third in business English. Mrs. Victoria Smith, FBLA advisor, conducted an FBLA reception at the Job Development Center to mark the National FBLA-Phi Beta Lambda Week. The reception stressed the importance of vocational and career education.

Student Council: The Voice Of Our School

The HHS student council is made up of hard working, enthusiastic students. They take part in many local functions.

Ms. Mary Durning and Ms. Jill White are the energetic student council advisors. They help the group in promoting student welfare, recognizing student achievement, representing the students, and binding the school and the community together.

Welcome To Hamilton High

The HHS Hosts serve as a reception committee for guests and aid in making people feel welcome in our school building. The students are selected for this organization by their grade level and counselor recommendation. The hosts work their hardest during the conferences held each semester for parents who wish to meet with teachers. Meeting parents, introducing teachers and spreading Hamilton High's pride are just some of the factors involved. The hosts are courteous students who are willing to donate their time to the betterment of their school.

Big Blue Bulletin Bunch

The Big Blue Bulletin went to a new format this year to bring the student a more impressive in depth paper. Mike Meister was editor, with Dienna Downey as treasurer. Head photographer was Floyd Schierholt, with help from Dottie Brehm, Scott Fuhrman, Bob Bailey, Gina Henry and Jeff Sword. Numerous contributions were made by Beth Crossley, Rayburn Neal, Nick Troxler, Dewayne Mays, Robin Brownie, Kellie Eversole and Ron Bagley. Mrs. Kathie Boggs was the advisor who tried to keep it all under control and meet those hectic deadlines with such great success.

Student Senates Plan Floats And Proms

Junior senate is made up of about forty-one members, seven officers and three advisors. The juniors main purpose is to plan school activities and to raise money for upcoming events such as their proms. Under the direction of the senate, the junior prom was a great success.

Senior senate has focused all their atention this year on providing the class with a successful senior prom. Early in the year, the senate sponsored a senior dance to raise money. The senior Homecoming float received third place.

Attendance Workers Keep Order In Office

Students that work in the attendance office are responsible for going around and collecting the attendance sheets at each room, marking off the class lists with absences, and running errands for Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Barrett, and Mrs. Molter. These ladies like to think they keep the office organized, but they couldn't do it without these dedicated hardworking students.

Occupational Work Experience

The Occupational Work Experience program is designed for students who want some help in finding jobs. The students spend half of their day attending classes, and then work fifteen hours each week at jobs which are supervised by their OWE teacher. The students prepare themselves with work that pertains to problems and experiences on the job. The teachers of OWE help set up job interviews for jobs throughout the community. This allows students to have work experience, job references and a better chance for post graduation jobs.

IOE Students Gain Experience

The Accounting and Computing IOE program is designed to prepare students for the entry level positions in the accounting field. The students receive preparation for positions as accounting and computing clerks in all types of offices in companies of varying size. The experience and additional training help students advance quickly to positions of middle management. The program offers development in skills such as office procedures, accounting, office processing data, and keyboarding.

Training For Business

The HHS IOE classes acquaint students with the difficult terminology of the business world. The stenography program helps develop the students' speed and accuracy in taking sustained dictation, and it enables the students to become quite proficient in making copies of hand notes. Stenography is a training unit in which word processing is becoming a more essential part of their training.

Diversified Health Occupations, known as DHO, is a new program that was introduced in Hamilton this year with the opening of the new vocational facility on the HHS campus. With the new building came the space and equipment for this interesting and important training program for those people interested in becoming medical or dental personnel upon graduation. It is a three period class that teaches students how to work with people in all facets of health care. DHO is a two-year program starting in the junior year. As seniors, students will go to school half of the day and then go to jobs in related health occupations for the other half of the day. This on the job training and experience will prove invaluable for those participating. During the first year students are introduced into basic nursing, medical, dental and secretarial skills. Ms. Deborah Schmid, head of the program, says her primary goal is to teach her students self-esteem and the ability to work succesfully with others.

Hamilton Has Airwaves Controlled

WHSS, 89.5 on your FM radio dial, is sponsored, written and run by Hamilton High students. It is funded by the Hamilton Board of Education. Students discover the plans behind the microphone and get experience on the air.

Television is also a product of the Hamilton High student body. Mike McGuire oversees the show and hosts a daily talk show on the air. Students are involved in the entire media process. This enables our HHS students to get on hand radio and TV experience.

Future Builders And Welders

The future builders of tomorrow in both junior and senior carpentry classes were working on another building assignment. The senior carpentry class, consisting of thirteen members, was building a garage for the whole year. A garage has become a yearly project for the seniors. The junior carpentry class, consisting of fifteen members, were building decks for part of the year. The junior class also built six storage barns, worked on cabinets and built cradles in class.

The senior metal fabrication class worked on different types of welding assignments all year. The beginning of the year, they worked through co-op industry. Through the latter part of the year, they went through various types of welding with each student holding his own task. The senior group worked on oxyacetyene welding, drilling, sheering and bending. They allowed factories to bring in outside work for fabrication. The junior metal fabrication class worked basically on learning to weld. They also did blue print reading and layout work, but basically dealt with the science of welding.

Senior Float Builders Work Quickly To Build A Rainbow

The senior float was built at Michelle Martin's house this year. They spent apporximately two weeks to finish their creation. The float, called "Victory Over the Rainbow", was a colorful balloon laden creation. It took the seniors a lot of hot air to blow up all of their decorations to make the colorful rainbow. Even though they won third place, it was very pretty, and the seniors had a lot of fun.

Juniors Go Metropolitan

March 22, 1986, many Hamilton High juniors spent "A Night on the Town" at one of the Metropolitan Rooms. This was the first year that junior prom has been held outside of the school building. The band was 3 D Productions. The Metropolitan Rooms provided a lovely setting decorated with pink, black and white balloons. The dance was a great success, and undoubtedly juniors in the future will want to continue the new tradition for their dance.

Farewell 1986

The year 1986 turned out to be a year of changes and unexpected upheaval at Big Blue. Changes, whether they be for the good or bad, always help keep life interesting. We of The Heritage hope this book is just as interesting.

This book was produced through the concerted efforts of some really dedicated students who, besides working hard, also had some fun in the process of putting it together. It was a massive undertaking to cover the people and events that made 1986 such a memorable year. Unfortunately, their advisor, Mrs. Kare Blount had a production of her own to attend to for the second half of the school year, but her position was handily filled by Ms. Ellen Armsy who found out that putting together a yearbook is not an easy job.

The staff hopes you like their efforts and would appreciate hearing a kind word if you like something that they did.

The year was a learning experience for everyone with many insights gained into human nature, honesty, justice and fair play. We saw both the good and the bad in the people that we worked with; however, we hope we show only the best of Big Blue in this book.
